Lausanne, 20th October 2020

To speakers, delegates and guests,

We have been monitoring the Covid-19 pandemic closely and, unfortunately, the current situation calls for further postponement. The new dates for the IOC World Conference on Prevention of Injury & Illness in Sport are:

25-27 November 2021

It is our intention that the 2021 scientific programme of invited lectures, workshops and abstract presentations remains the same. Still, we will provide you with the opportunity to update the content with the result of new research.

Chair of symposia and head-to-head debates, speakers of keynote lectures, workshop presenters, free communication presenters and poster presenters will be contacted in due time.

In addition, we also intend to open up for a new round of poster presentations, with a submission deadline of 1 June 2021.

More information will follow via direct email to all delegates and speakers, as well as on the conference website as soon as available.

Many thanks for your understanding.

Yours sincerely,

Richard Budgett MD, OBE
IOC Medical & Scientific Director

Roald Bahr MD, PhD
Chairman, Scientific Committee
